

Role Title

Website and Social Media Volunteer

Main Activity

The Riverside Project is a newly-established venture which aims to showcase the benefits of traditional countryside conservation skills and crafts. It seeks to demonstrate how you can sustainably manage a woodland to produce green wood for working whilst at the same time maximising opportunities for wildlife to thrive.

The project is based on a 3.5 acre site in Brompton Regis and there will be opportunities for volunteers to assist with on-site conservation tasks such as coppicing, hedge laying and riverside management which benefit species such as Kestrel, Owls, Kingfishers, Red Deer, hedgehogs, slow worms, bats and trout which are all found on site as well as surveying the flora and fauna that the site attracts throughout the year.

In order to progress the project we are looking for a volunteer who can help develop and improve our social media, web design and advertising for the activities and classes being run as part of the project.

As part of the role the project offers volunteers opportunities to join our woodworking courses and the Exmoor Bodgers Group (affiliated to the Association of Pole Lathe Turners and Green Wood Workers).
