

The Robber's Bridge Story

EXMOOR

NATIONAL PARK

Robber's Bridge is an outdoor area where a bridge crosses over a river

It is a place where I can spend time in the countryside

When I arrive to visit Robber's Bridge

I might see:

The car park

Old boundary stones

A ford

A sign

When I visit Robber's Bridge

I might see:

The bridge over the river

A river
called Weir
Water

Damselflies

A valley

When I visit Robber's Bridge

I might hear:

Birds

The wind blowing through the trees

The water in the river

Sheep

When I visit Robber's Bridge

I might touch or feel:

Tree bark

Mud

Fuzzy leaves

The water

When I visit Robber's Bridge

I might taste:

My picnic if we have taken one with us

Whortleberries

When I visit Robber's Bridge

I might smell:

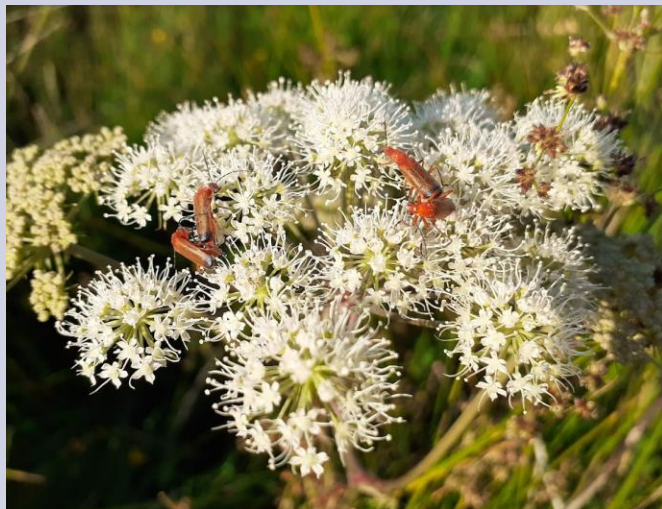

Wild garlic

Gorse

Flowers in the meadow

Heather

Most of all Robber's Bridge is a place where I can enjoy time outdoors

Some additional information for my visit

- This Sensory Story starts from the Exmor National Park free car park at Robber's Bridge. It is reached via a narrow road from Oare.
- Nearby public toilets can be found nearby (open all year) EX35 6NU
- There is a National Trust café found near the toilets. Open in season
