

Role Title: Historic Building Recorders Dunster

Somerset Archaeological & Natural History Society - Building Research Group

Main Activity:

The Early Dunster Project ( SANHS Building Research Group) sponsored by Historic England is now well under way.

The Project is compiling a study in detail of the early building fabric of Dunster of which there is a great deal. This entails surveying and drawing up individual properties with written reports which include any available documentary history. Another team of volunteers is working on this background research.

Anyone interested in being involved in this fascinating project is invited to contact us as soon as possible.

Location:

Dunster

Time Commitment:

To suit volunteer

Duration:

The Project is expected to run for another 3 years

Skills/Ability needed:

An enthusiasm for recording/researching old buildings. Training will be made available - you don't have to be any expert as we can help you learn as you go along.

At present we particularly need drawing skills (freehand, autocad or technical).

Useful to have:

- Enquiring mind
- interest in built environment and social history (desirable)

What you need to bring:

Just yourself but on site you will need suitable clothing and footwear and picnic lunch.

What's in it for you:

Opportunity to gain new skills in historic buildings research & recording.
Opportunity to contribute towards publication of research. Chance to visit and record some fascinating historic buildings.
